Old Resident Dies at Bentley

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Damron motored up to Edmonton the first of the week for a couple of day's visit. Mrs. Finch accompanied them.

Geo. Garries, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Garries, Jr., returned to Norbuck on Wednesday, after having been called to Bentley on account of the funeral of Mrs. Paul Garries. Mrs. Geo. Garries, Sr., remained here to care for Paul's little daughter.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Haarstad of Sunset District at the Lacombe Hospital on Wednesday, April 17.

Mrs. Thos. Lorimer and daughters Margery and Gladys were out from Lacombe on Saturday last calling on old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Schmidt are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, (Alberta) on April 27, 1939.

Mr. Sullivan Wareham, a highly respected citizen of the Gull Lake District passed away very suddenly on April 25. He and Mrs. Wareham had returned about a month ago from spending the winter with their daughter at Portland, Oregon and he had been in his usual health, but death came withour warning.

Mr. Wareham was born near Franklin, Pa. May 5, 1857, which made him lacking ten days of 72 years of age. At the age of 21 he went to Montana where he met Miss Annie Sutter and on Oct. 20, 1889 they were married. He lived in Montana 27 years, moving from there to Greenville, S.C., where he spent 6 years. From there he went to Avinger, Tex., where he resided 3 years. At the age of 62, when many are thinking of retiring from active work, he came to Alberta and settled on a farm not far from Aspen Beach, Gull Lake, and where he has been actively engaged in gardening, supplying the Aspen Beach summer resort tourists with summer vegetables.

Besides his widow he leaves two sons, Dayton and Benton of this place, one son Marshall, of Cedar Falls, Wash., one daughter, Mrs. L. L. Wasell of Portland, Oregon; eight grandchildren and two sisters and three brothers of Franklin, Pa. A large crowd was present, and the funeral services which were held at the home, Elder Newbold of the Canadian Junior College officiating. The quartette of C.J.C. were present and sang several hymns during the ceremony.

The son from Washington and the daughter from Oregon were able to be present at the funeral. Interment was made in the Adventist Cemetery near Bentley. The sympathy of a large circle of friends is extended to the family in their bereavement.

A public meeting is called at the Community Hall on Monday evening, May 5 for the discussion of the building of a new school house or the remodeling of the present building. A full attendance is desired and an invitation is given to those outside the District, who are sending pupils to Bentley for the High School Grades to be present.

About 36 were present at the Board of Trade Luncheon held at the Community Hall on Monday evening last. Visitors from Red Deer and Lacombe were present. Mayor Snell, of Red Deer and Mr. Keppel, Master Mechanic, Red Deer District, C.P.R. and Mr. Turnbull, past Pres. Red Deer Board of Trade, being among them. Rev. Layton of Lacombe, gave an interesting talk in regard to establishing a Boy's and Girl's Camp at Brownlows Landing, Gull Lake. Asst. Supt. DeLong of the Dominion Experimental Farm spoke in the interests of a Field Crop Competition in the District.

Mr. and Mrs. Fyfe were here on Sunday consulting Dr. Henry in regard to their little daughter. Mr. Fyfe was formerly manager of an elevator at this point.

Wedding Bells at Lockhart

Mr. Mike Spoke and family have moved on to the John Robinson farm in the Sunset District.

There was a very good attendance at U.F.A. meeting last Saturday night. The letter of Mr. Chowen to Mr. Puffer was read and it was decided that the Secretary write Mr. Chowen, commending him on the stand he has taken in defence of the hog pool.

The annual hall meeting was held on the same evening. Mr. H. Stephenson will act on the board instead of Mr. Gelin, who refused the nomination this year.

The Junior U.F.A. took their play to Gilby last Friday night, and report a very successful evening.

Mrs. Iddings and son Homer and Miss Gyori visited Mrs. Iddings' daughter at Camrose over the week end.

Miss Archibald of Lacombe addressed the Junior U.F.A. last week. About fifty members were present to enjoy the talk from this talented speaker. Miss Constance Fraser and Mr. Lawrence Calkins were appointed delegates to the Junior Convention in Edmonton in June.

Mrs. Carter of Coronation is a guest of Mrs. D. Layton for a few days this week.

Mrs. Earl Stephenson and children are visiting relatives in the valley this week. She expects to leave for Fairview in Peace River country next week where Mr. Stephenson has already gone with a carload of settler's effects. Mrs. Stephenson was formerly Miss Lizzie Jaffray.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Papp returned from Hardisville near Lethbridge last week, where they attended the wedding of their daughter, Mary.

A very pretty wedding took place at the Catholic Church on Sunday, April when Mary, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Papp of this district became the bride of Steve, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Veltri of Hardieville. The impressive ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Fabre, assisted by nine dainty dressed flower girls and nine rosy cheeked boys. The bride's gown was of white crepe-de-chene, trimmed with orange blossoms and her veil was held in place with a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a banquet of carnations and roses. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of groom's parents where two hundred guests were present and a five-piece orchestra supplied the music. Many beautiful gifts were received by the bride.

Many quaint customs of the old home land of the contracting parties were revived at the reception. Hungarian delicacies occupied the central place in the wedding supper, which was served to the guests. Following this, dancing to Hungarian music, in which the quaint dances know to the older folks carried them back to the days before they came to Canada. Later in the evening, the bride's dance without which no Hungarian wedding would be complete, was danced, the bride's many partners testifying to her popularity among her new friends. For this dance the bride wore her bridal gown and veil. Mr. and Mrs. Veltri will reside on the 800 acre homestead of the grooms father.

"Canada is different from Hungary," said Mr. Demetrovicy, of Calgary, who corresponds for newspapers in his home land "In Hungary weddings lasted two or three days. The people arriving in wagons drawn by gaily bedecked four horse teams, but just look," and he pointed to the forty or fifty autos standing in the yard of the Veleti homestead.

The out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Papp, Rimbey; Miss Papp, Calgary; Mr. James Colly, assistant superintendent of colonization dept., Calgary; Mr. Steve Lebfalick, secretary Hungarian association, of Winnipeg; John Lukes, Retlow; Mr. and Mrs. Irbin and C. E. Kackley, Taber; Mr. Demetrovitz, Calgary; Dr. and Mrs. Berdach, Raymond.

GRAIN BOARD OF CANADA

Reorganization of the Canadian Grain Board conceded to be inevitable ever since development of intense dissatisfaction amongst the farmers of Western Canada with the handling of last year's crop, is now rumored in government circles as imminent.

The chairmanship of the board, regarded as one of the most important posts in Western Canada, will in all probability be tendered to Chief Justice J. L. Brown, of Saskatchewan. The chief justice's acceptances of the position, however, is regarded as doubtful. The appointment is a ten-year one and in order to accept it, the chief justice would have to sacrifice his retiring allowance as a judge.

The reorganization, it is stated, will be largely independent of the agitation which the west has been waging on the score of the board's alleged failure to preserve the effectiveness of the Campbell amendments which give the farmer control over his grain to the terminal elevator. The shake-up will be prompted instead by the health of the board's members.

Chairman Leslie Boyd has been in poor health for some time, and for two years his resignation has been in the hands of the government. He has been requested to carry on, however, as the appointment is a difficult one to make, requiring a lawyer of an eminence for the comparatively small salary of $10,000 a year. Chairman Boyd is a Montreal lawyer and his work is highly regarded by he government. Acceptance of his resignation is rendered imperative, however, by the condition of blindness with which he is now afflicted. His physician visited Ottawa recently and to the government that he would not be responsible for the results if Mr. Boyd were not relieved of his duties at an early date.

Another member of the board, James Robinson, is critically ill in the hospital. The third member of the board, Matthew Snow, is advanced in age and eligible for retirement.

The question believed to confront the government is whether to conduct the reorganivation before or after the agricultural committee of the House of Commons renders its report upon the circumstance surrounding the marketing of last year's crop. The expecation is that no lack of sincerity upon the grain board's part will be revealed by the investigations and there is reluctance towards dismissing the present commissioners under circumstances which might be open to misrepresentation.

WILL TAKE BETTER CARE OF YOUTHFUL CRIMINALS

Segregation of youthful criminals in penitentiaries, which has been under consideration by the federal government for several years, is expected to be adopted as a policy during the present session of parliament.

The minister of justice has already given notice on the House of Commons order paper of a bill respecting juvenile delinquents. It is understood that its provisions relate to special treatment in the penitentiaries for youths of 16, 17 and 18 years of age. Establishment of two special institutions, one in eastern and the other in Western Canada, is expected.

No less than 46 inmates of the country's penal institutions are under 18 years of age. Of this number 37 give their nationality as Canadian, 4 as American, 1 as Italian, 1 as a Newfoundlander, 1 as Scottish and 2 as Norwegian.

There is somewhat of an anomaly involved in the whole situation. As long ago as 1895 the last superintendent of penitentiaries, Douglas Stewart, and the present one, General Hughes, drafted the report which resulted in the establishment of the Borstall institutions in England. These institutions have since become famous for their success in the reclamation of delinquents of youthful years.

FLIES OR BABIES, WHICH?

The above arresting title to a brief but very telling little pamphlet issued by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. gives a very real meaning to the "Clean Up" week which is being urged on all communities at this season.

Filth and garbage of all kinds accumulate during the Winter months. With the coming of the warm days, the house fly appears. It is born in filth, lives in filth and when not busy on butter, milk, preserves or the baby's bottles, is feeding in filth.

It is estimated that the flies are responsible for more deaths than any single known disease. Babies are its particular prey since the infantile diseases are carried largely by the pest. Get rid of it by cleaning up all filth and garbage. Make a habit of burning all refuse. Give it no chance to breed. Screen doors and windows at first hint of warm weather. Two flies at the beginning of the season will be responsible if allowed to live, for millions of other flies, they breed so rapidly. So clean up, burn up and screen doors and windows. Is it to be flies or babies? The choice is yours.

For literature on the summer care of babies send to the Canadian Red Cross Society, 407 Civic Block, Edmonton, Alta.

WHEAT POOLS OF CANADA REFUSE TO ENTER U.S. RING

Canadian wheat pools will enter into no alliance with United States producers to control world prices.

Officials of western pools in making this announcement, point out that as the world wheat pool conference last summer at Regina, all pledged themselves not to enter into any combination to control prices. This was at the urgent representation of British and European buying houses. On that understanding the Europeans agreed not to consider retaliatory or self protective measures of mass production at home or in their colonies.

Winnipeg pool officials doubt very much the capacity of such a Canada-U.S. combination to control prices when they control only 80 percent of production. They point out that the history of the Rubber trade will be repeated in which non-participating countries reaped the cream of high prices and enhanced production.

The proposal was advanced by J. W. Brinton, of Lincoln, Nebraska, before the United States senate agricultural committee at Washington. Mr. Brinton's proposal was to "stabilize the price" which means to enhance the price in the view of Canadian pool officials, and is therefore a direct violation of the pool agreement not to attempt such a course.

Western Canada wheat pools plan to merely do three things; create orderly marketing machinery to prevent deluging the market with grain during the rush delivery months, to bolster the market when the bears have control without an economic basis and to prevent sudden panicky downward movements during bull crop reports in the growing season. Anything more than that, they point out, would violate their agreements at Regina.

PRAIRIE FIRES CAUSE SERIOUS LOSS

Several serious prairie fires in the southern part of the province have resulted in considerable destruction of farm property as well as grass on the ranges, it is pointed out by Benj. Lawton, Provincial Game and Fire Commissioner, that those who find it necessary ask fires should take every precaution to prevent it from escaping, any anyone driving through the country should refrain from throwing lighted matches and live cigar or cigarette stubs away before they are extinguished.

The burning of stubble on grain fields in the past has resulted in considerable damage from fires which have been allowed to escape. It is considered that the long stubble and straw left on grain fields where combine harvesters have been used may prove to be even a more serious menace where this is burned preparatory to plowing. It would be well for all who find it necessary to burn stubble of this kind to take special precautions even in addition to those provided for by The Prairie Fires Act.

Where burning is to be done at any season of the year for the purpose of destroying stubble, straw or brush, or where it is considered necessary to utilize fire for the clearing of land, a fire guard is required, and the fire in every instance must be watched by three adult persons, equipped with suitable appliances for the extinguishing of fire, and the fire must be watched and guarded until it has been extinguished. A fire guard must be provided before kindling any such fire and must be ten feet wide if burning is to be done before May 7th, and twenty feet wide if it is to be done after that date.

BRITAIN TO PAY HER WAR DEBTS

Sir Esme Howard, British Ambassador to the United States, took advantage of an invitation to speak in Indianapolis to make an important pronouncement on the war debt question. It was to all intents and purposes a direct reply to the Snowden utterance a few days previously, as well as an assurance to the American people that Great Britain has no intention of repudiating any agreement to which she has set her seal.

He declared that Britain's recovery since the war showed she still possessed the old spirit of determination to carry on in spite of almost superhuman difficulties and to pay her debts as long as it was possible to do so. Referring directly to the question of the war debt settlement, he said: "The reasonable and common-sense Englishman is willing to leave that altogether to the United States, but I have no doubt that if you, in due course, come to the conclusion that revision downwards is in your own interest, you will not find John Bull too unreasonable about it."

RADIO MAY AID MAN IN STUDY OF WILD LIFE

Harry Allen

Do animals converse? Harry Allen, famous New Brunswick guide says they do, and he speaks from the experience of a lifetime spent in the woods which flank his seventy-eight mile lease of the Caine River. Within certain narrow limits, he insists, the language of the wildcat can be counterfeited by man with such skill that it deceives the animals themselves. Thus, the call of the cow moose in the mating season is more often than not a successful lure in bringing the bull to the hunter. The cry of the hunting wolf and the honk of the migrating geese are easily imitated by the initiate and are easy of interpretation. There is, however, nothing particularly new in this. What is new, is Mr. Allen's claim that animals communicate with one another by sounds inaudible to the human ear. That they do converse and communicate one with the other is demonstrated in a thousand ways each day. What our well-known guide suggests is that radio will eventually solve the question and be the means of interpretation of the animal communication.

That the human ear is sensitive to but a very narrow and limited range of vibrations is in fact certain. What Mr. Allen hopes to prove shortly is that all animals are sensitive to, and make use of, "wave lengths" outside the range of mankind.

"It is a common occurrence in the woods to see a cow moose leave her calf, or a deer her fawn," says Mr. Allen by way of example. "I have seen it hundreds of times. Every time the mother animal has instructed her young, in a language inaudible to human ears, not to stray. That language was quite intelligible to the young, but although I have sometimes been within touching distance, I have never heard the faintest sound, beyond at most, the blowing out of air from the nostrils which had no apparent significance. The young of the moose or deer will remain exactly as its mother left it, even though she be gone for half an hour at a stretch. More than that—in case of extreme need it will "radio" its mother without apparent sound.

"I have experimented on the problem many times. In each case it has been the same. I have waited until the mother has gone some distance; then have approached and stroked the young animal. Beyond a slight twitching of the skin, it has not moved, but it must have sent out a call, for almost immediately it would hear the crashing return of the mother through the undergrowth. At such moments I would not pursue my investigations further."

Mr. Allan has cited many other "demonstrations" to members of the Tourist Department of the Canadian Pacific Railway who are encouraging him to develop his theory still further as he engages in the role of guide, philosopher and friend to the fisherman and the hunter. 25s

Waterworks for Lacombe

Within a short time it is quite probable that Lacombe will have a water and sewage system. Mayor Jackson has pressed the matter with Calgary Power, and the question has come to a point where that Company is ready to meet the council and talk the scheme over. Water for Lacombe would be procured from deep wells, and the Power Company's experts have decided that the water supply here is unlimited. The Company, if satisfactory arrangements are completed, will sink wells, lay the mains, and instead of the old style standpipe for pressure, will use large pressure tanks, from which the water will be forced through the mains. The Power Company will not put in a sewage system under any consideration, and this most essential part of the project will have to be put in and operated by the town. From data secured by the Company, Lacombe is fortunate in being so situated that there will not be fear of a water shortage, such as Camrose is suffering from.

TOURISTS ARE ARRIVING

Every day an increasing number of automobiles carrying United States markers are to be seen on the streets, the beginning of the great flow of tourist traffic from across the border that during summer months will reach enormous proportions. This annual invasion of the Dominion by a vast army of holidaying motorists from the U.S. has become of remarkable commercial importance. It has been growing steadily and has limitless possibilities of expansion. Some credit for this must be given to the Department of the Interior, which has been for some years carrying on a campaign to attract visitors by supplying information on the country's natural resources and its possibilities as a playground.

The railway systems and the steamship companies and the various provincial and municipal tourists' bureaus have also played an important part in bringing the varied attractions of Canada to the attention of prospective tourists. From coast to coast we have the widest range of scenic beauty and conditions for recreation and sport, majestic mountains, prairies, lakes and streams that teem with every species of game fish, and forests that in the fall supply the best of big game hunting on the continent. Canoeist, camper, motorist, fisherman, hunter, hiker all will find in Canada what the seek.

A TREAT FOR ALL

At the Pupils' Violin Recital, Friday evening of this week, in St. Andrew's United Church, Mr. Touche will intersperse numbers on his wonderful new eletric machine, the ELECTROLA. This is the very latest invention in the recording machine, and those who have had a chance to note the difference between it and even the Orthophonics are advised not to miss this opportunity. A dealer in Orthophonics who heard it last evening remarked "I have heard that record very many times, but I wouldn't have believed it could be made to sound like that," so come early, and listen to the whole program which starts at 8.30 p.m. sharp. The admission is a coin in the plate at the door as you pass in.

"FORGOTTEN TRAILS"

(By C. B. Halpin, Jr.

Throughout Alberta there must be a veritable maze of long forgotten trails, for wherever man has trod, there he leaves his marks. As we look at a map of this great province, we see upon it many roads and highways, most of them of no great age; most of the makers of these more recent trails are still in their prime, and a new road is of little moment save when it is under construction, and the demon "Detour" comes upon the scene to harrass the otherwise joyful motorist.

But gone, or nearly gone, are the trails of yesterday—trails made by the Indian as he made his way from one place to another in the then mighty hunting ground. Trails made by the trapper and hunter of a later date, followed by more trails made by the searchers after gold, and in due time by the early settlers coming in from the South and East, to raise new homes upon the virgin prairie. Of these trails little now remains, time and drifting soil, new growth and grain fields have obliterated the last faint trace of many of these "Trails of Yesterday."

On the Eastern end of Gull Lake, in front of the cottages of the village, the dim marks of an ancient trail can still be noticed; if one looks closely he will notice that the trees on either side of this one time trail are of greater growth, more aged and showing the signs of many battles with the elements; the storm winds from off the lake have left their marks upon this avenue of trees. The old trail too, is overgrown with younger brush, but still it can be seen, winding its way around the lake shore, less noticeable year after year, and soon the steady march of time will have erased it also. When but a boy, some twenty years ago, I first noticed the signs of this all-but-forgotten-trail, and though at that time it was more in evidence I scarcely gave it second thought. But as the years drift on, and the sands of time began to dim its last faint trace, I have caught something of its Romance. I have wondered how the trail came to be there. Who used it at its inception? And, into what distant place it led? Old timers in the district have enlightened me somewhat. "The Trail," we have been told, "was in existence over 100 years ago. It was the H.B. trail to the old trading post, Rocky Mountain House and thousands of carts loaded with supplies for this company's store passed over it. Then it was used by the pack teams and hunting parties enroute to the Medicine Valley, and to the Rockies. Previous to this it was but an Indian trail, used by them on their wanderings, and since then by early settlers of the district, or by the lumbermen hauling lumber from the "Old Mill" up the lake.

I like to sit beside this fastly fading trail, and can imagine I can see the Indian hunter stalking buffalo and deer along the path, or building his camp on the lake shore. The hunter too, and prospector I can see, making their lonely way along the trail. Or again, I see the early settler following this "Trail of Hope," to their land of dreams, beyond the distant hills. I like to feel that I am at this late date, sharing his burdens, and living some of the Romance of the "Pioneer."

Following the trail around the Southern edge of the lake we come to "Walker's Point," and, if we look closely at the cut-bank on its very tip, we may notice a few decaying logs, that once were part of a "Cabin", built into the bank. Who made it we do not know, though old timers say it was old and unoccupied when they first came, some forty years. When I first visited this point, three wall and a part of the roof were to be seen, tumbling down, it is true, but still in evidence. Each year sees more decay, and upon my last visit, nothing remained of what was once a home, save a few rotting logs and a pile of chips and dirt. Who built this tiny cabin?" Was it some hunter as a shelter from the wintery blasts? Or some long forgotten prospector, or fugitive from justice?

We wonder—and weave strange fantasaic scries. What mental battles were waged within its walls? What sorrows has it seen. And where are its builders? A needless question, for they must have long since gone to join the "shadow legions."

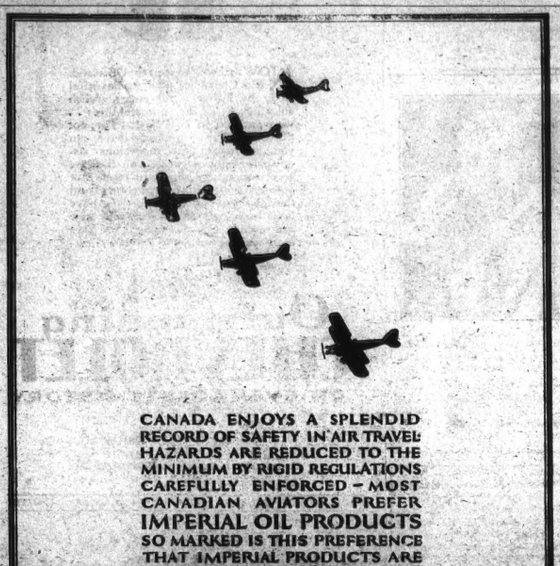

Did the builder witness the fall of the Meteorite—if such it is, a great stone that lies imbedded in the sand across the lake? This stone in our young life has been all but covered by drifting sands. A score of years ago it was six feet above the level of the beach, how deeply buried we have never know. Traces of ash may be seen imbedded on its surface, which fact coupled with an almost legendary story of a "Falling Star," leads us to believe it may have been a "meteorite". Still visible are these ancient sign posts along the time-worn trail. Still visible, but all but gone. Time moves on and soon the very evidence of the trail will be obliterated, and it will become, with other ancient pathways, another "Forgotten Trail of Yesterday".

DOMINION OFFERS BRITAIN MARKET

A feature of the Calgary address of Sir William Clark, British High Commissioner, was the statement that the business interest of the Motherland are at last awake to the possibilities of developing a far greater trade with Canada. This country offers a large and attractive market for British goods but it will require personal investigation on the part of the British mercantile firms and manufacturers to promote a keener demand for British goods. The Dominion imported goods to the value of $1,200,000,000 last year of which only $190,000,000 came from Great Britain. There is no particular reason why these figures cannot be greatly improved from the British standpoint.

The great bulk of Canadian imports come from the United States, a nation which has pursued a consistently selfish if not hostile tariff course toward this country. Sentiment in Canada is strongly in favor of the purchase of British goods rather than American. The opportunity is here for British traders to capitalize on this sentiment. To do so, they must take a leaf out of the American's book. They must send representatives here to get into close touch with Canadian conditions and market requirements. More vigorous merchandising methods are essential The appointment of an agent in Montreal or Toronto to look after the entire Canadian market is necessary. There must be more vigorous commercial penetration and the results will justify the cost.

Great Britain is the chief buyer of Canadian wheat and other products. It would be good business on our part to buy from our best customer, not from one which is right now considering ways and means of further shutting out Canadian goods from its home market. All the more so, because through the Empire Marketing Board a strong sentiment is being fostered in the old Country for Canadian products. Co-operation in trade between Great Britain and Canada would prove mutually profitable.

A bow rudder is a unique feature in the equipment of the Princess Norah, latest addition to the fleet of the British Columbia Coastal Steamships of the Canadian Pacific Railway. This facilitates the control of the vessel in the narrow channels in Pacific coastal waters and between Vancouver Island and the mainland linking the ports of Vancouver, Victoria, and Seattle. The Princess is shown here in dry-dock, her bow rudder being plainly visible. On her initial voyage up the coast she carried a distinguished company, including Their Excellencies the Governor General and Lady Willingdon, Hon. Randolph Bruce, Lieutenant Governor of British Columbia, and his niece Miss Helen Mackenzie, and prominent residents of the Pacific coast.

CARDS ON THE TABLE

Although Germany does not appear yet to be completely satisfied, much has been accomplished by the League of Nations toward persuading members—and some non-members, too—to put their cards on the table as to the military situation in their respective countries. This information is contained between the covers of the Armaments Year Book, a formidable volume of a thousand pages, which contains a rich fund of statistics respecting armaments of 57 powers.

It is this volume which Germany is urging at the present session of the preliminary conference on disarmament should be made yet more complete by a still more adequate record of military preparation on the part of the powers, a still more frank disclosure of what warlike resources are available in each country. This attitude on the part of Germany, almost disarmed as she was by the peace terms prescribed at Versailles, is not hard to understand though it is not difficult to imagine that she might not be so insistent under other circumstances. Nevertheless, the publication and circulation of the Armaments Year Book is evidence of some measure of goodwill among the 57 contributing nations under the terms of Article 8 of the Covenant of the League, which says:

The members of the League undertake to interchange full and frank information as to the scale of their armaments, their military, naval and air programme and the condition of such of their industries as are adaptable to warlike purposes.

The information contained in this book can only be assumed to be reliable but one of the reasons for its publication is that war scares may possibly be averted if the public has access to up-to-date information on the military resources of the various powers. This is explained by the compilers who state that the Armaments Year Book provides "mutual information concerning military situations which would render it possible to nip in the bud any campaign started by our alarmist press."

But this, of course, is an incidental usefulness of the volume. It tells the tale of how much money we are spending and how much energy and ingenuity we are exercising to defend ourselves against one another. Who knows but what, had there been a League of Nations and no secret armaments 20 years ago, we might never have seen the debacle of 1914?

Here and There

The contract for a new fast steamship to ply between Saint John and Digby, Nova Scotia, will shortly be awarded by the Canadian Pacific Railway, it has been announced by E. W. Beatty chairman and president of the company. The ship will be of the highest standard, 340 feet in length, capable of carrying 500 passengers, and having 44 state rooms for night service. There will also be accommodation for 59 motor cars. The speed of the vessel will be 21 knots, an unusually high speed for a short trip.

The sap ran freely this spring, but it will have to go some to surpass the record for last year when there was an increase of four million pounds of maple sugar registered by government statisticians. The output was valued at over two million dollars, and Quebec headed the list of provinces as producer, followed by Ontario.

The daily pay-roll of the Canadian Pacific is $267,000; the daily outlay for material and supplies is $220,000, and the daily tax bill over $30,000.

Prince George, Duke of Gloucester, third son of His Majesty, will early in June officially open the great Royal York Hotel of the Canadian Pacific Railway in Toronto, it has been announced by E. W. Beatty, K.C., chairman and president of the company. The building is the tallest in the British Empire, towering 25 storeys above the pavements of the "Queen City."

In a recent Calgary high-school oratorical contest in English candidates in the finals were born respectively in Canada, England, Lithuania, Roumania, and Russia. Of three Edmonton candidates one was of French, one of German, and one of Scotch extraction.

Few souvenir-hunting travellers have bagged as fine a prize as Viscount Willingdon, Governor General of Canada, who was presented with one of the biggest Totem Poles on the Pacific coast during his recent cruise in the Princess Norah, latest addition to the fleet of the British Columbia Coastal Steamship services of the Canadian Pacific Railway. His Excellency was given an insight into the activities and potentialities of Vancouver Island and was much impressed by the beauty of the coastal scenery.

A party of immigrants who within a short time are expected to multiply in large numbers and become thoroughly Canadianized, arrived in Montreal recently via the Canadian Pacific Express. They were rabbits—brown rabbits—sent from Germany to points in Ontario for breeding purposes. They appeared to be none the worse for their long journey and constantly nibbled at lettuce offered them by admiring expressmen.

Miss Walters' Recital

Round after round of applause greeted Miss Kathleen Walters on the evening of her Pianoforte and Vocal Recital, which was largely attended by music lovers of the vicinity. Miss Walters, who is a pupil of Mrs. E. R. Harrison, L.R.A.M., Lacombe, and P. L. Newcombe, Director of Music, Mount Royal College, Calgary, displayed a faultless technique in her translation of some difficult piano numbers, and voice, combined with a charming personality, completely won her audience, who insisted on several encores. Miss Myrtle Cochran, Calgary, assisting Miss Walters, was heartily welcomed "home" by her host of friends who listened entranced to her delightful violin solos.

In her rendition of Melisande of the Wood, Miss Walters fully interpreted her author and sang with a wealth of musical understanding. Her other vocal numbers were sung with a purity of style which was notable. Her rendition of "Rhapsodie Hongroise", by Liszt and the Sonata by Beethoven were artistically rendered.

Miss Myrtle Cochran (our Myrtle), played as she never played before. Her rendition of "Symphonie Espagnola" and encore "Aloha", with her perfect double stopping were marvelous and showed wonderful finish.

Mrs. E. R. Harrison, L.R.A.M., as accompanist, also rendered with great charm the final number of the program, Chopin's "Polonaise", which was a masterpiece, played by a real artist.

Thanks are due the ladies of the I.O.D.E. for their interest and assistance in this event.

A GOOD OFFICIAL RESIGNS

Freeman Baker, for several years town foreman, tendered his resignation at the last meeting of the council, and will leave the town employ and probably remove to B.C. in the near future. Mr. Baker has been a most efficient and hard-working employee of the town, and has put the streets of Lacombe in a very high state of repair. There is no such thing as water blocking up and flooding property any more, as adequate drains and culverts have been put in and kept in good repair. Mayor Jackson, in speaking of Mr. Baker's retirement said that the retiring foreman was the most conscientious and hard working employee he had ever seen. He worked longer hours than any man could reasonably be expected to, it being no uncommon thing to see him out with his team at four and five o'clock in the morning, dragging the streets, and doing other necessary work, which could not be performed in the regular day's length. Mr. Baker leaves the streets of the town in first class shape, and his successor will find it a lot easier to keep them up than he did. All will wish Mr. Baker success in future undertakings.

ODDFELLOW'S SERVICE

Oddfellows from Red Deer, Ponoka, and Alix worshipped with the Lacombe Lodge at St. Andrew's United Church on Sunday evening in celebration of the 110th anniversary of Oddfellowship. Rev. R. B. Layton, Pastor, chose as his text "Love the Brotherhood," taken from First Peter, Ch2, V 17, and spoke of some of the characteristics of various brotherhoods from the beginning of history. In its larger meaning, said Mr. Layton, the word Brotherhood denotes a common Father and this Father is God. The basis of all brotherhood is therefore the giving of loyalty to our common Father.

A duet by Miss Sims and Mr. McDougall and an anthem by the choir added to the enjoyment of the service.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of the late J. P. Miller wish to thank Messrs. John Bradley, John Crooker, Herbert Dool, Kirk Dix, J. Frizzell, Corp. Collett, and Const. Archie McDonald, for the great assistance rendered in recovering the body of deceased from Gull Lake. They wish to thank all those who sent flowers and assisted in any other way. The coroner and police after going over the scene of the accident, concluded that an inquest was unnecessary, and that the unfortunate occurrence could not have been guarded against. The road on the lake was in good condition on the morning of the accident, when the Millers passed it, the break in the ice happening that evening and the car broke in before it was noticed.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. Blackstock wishes to thank all those who rendered assistance in any way during the illness and since the death of her beloved husband. She wishes especially to thank those who provided autos for the funeral, and those who sent flowers, especially the Orange Association, Mrs. Lett, and others.

Miss Gwen Halpin, R.N., returned on Saturday to her duties at Arrowwood Hospital, having completely recovered from her recent operation.

Imp Saying

A Column of Fun and Facts for Lacombe Folk and our Farmer Friends

As we approach the first days of May it seems to us we are reaching the happiest time of the year. But happiness is shy. It steals into your heart while you are busy doing for others, and cannot be captured by one who devotes his time to chasing it.

A farmer's work is always a race against time. A good tractor is always ready for emergencies. A McCormick-Deering Tractor takes away a lot of drudgery and makes farm life happier, as well as more profitable.

Spring Cleaning

A fine way to break your back in the spring is to walk into the living room in the dark and sit down where the davenport was yesterday.

If you need a good Cultivator or Disc Harrows get a McCormick Deering.

Every day in every way, more people coming here to stay.

If you have a McCormick-Deering Tractor, seed beds can always be prepared in season.

Sunday School Teacher—"We should never do in private what we would not do in public".

Bad Boy—"How about taking a bath teacher?"

Farming by old methods is hard, hard work, but thousands of farmers are fighting their way clear of the worst of it by using reliable McCormick-Deering Tractor power and equipment.

With a McCormick-Deering Drill, every seed is planted right in even furrows, at the proper depth and covered with the right amount of dirt.

Mr. Chowen Explains

Editor: the Western Globe.

Dear Sir:

I am again forced to correct several statements made by Mr. Puffer in your issue of April 18th. He seems to think the members of the Blindman Valley Association are suffering from mental delusion. There are nearly 1300 members in this organization and between 30 and 40 similar organizations throughout Alberta, all doing business. Now does it seem reasonable that all these people should be weak-minded and Mr. Puffer the only Solomon in the land. God did not give all the brains to one man and Mr. Puffer acts like one who did not get any more than his share.

Mr. Puffer had the respect of this district for many years, doing business with the farmers at a good profit for himself, and now when the farmers wish to do their own marketing, instead of him thanking them for past favors, he is peeved because they do not continue to support him. I always did contend that the time to wean a calf is when he is young as he does not bawl so loud.

Mr. Puffer goes on in a rambling way to describe the way he has always sold hogs. Now we are all quite familiar with the system he operated under and we discarded it for a much better system when we commenced business.

I was quite interested in his figures and while I know if figures are used in the right way they will not lie, there is unfortunately nothing to prevent a liar from figuring.

Now I am not going into our system of marketing, other than to say: The farmer is starting to do his own marketing (who has a better right to) and cutting out the middlemen, and judging from Mr. Puffer's lamentations it is working quite successfully.

We market our hogs on the world's market regardless of who the buyer may be, and during the last five years we have marketed our hogs on almost every market in Canada and a great many of our hogs have gone to the United States. No buyer is barred from buying our hogs, providing he has the money and is prepared to pay the highest market price.

I read the article he refers to in the North-West Farmer. These drovers have done a fine business feeding light hogs with cheap feed bought from the farmers and I join with the North West Farmer in their praise for their successful enterprise, but I would like to see this business carried on by the farmers themselves which policy this association is encouraging. It might be of interest to Mr. Puffer and the general public as well to know that out of almost ten-thousand hogs marketed by our association since the first of the year less than thirty have been unfinished or feeder hogs. It might be of interest also, to know that there is less low grain shipped out of Blindman Valley than any district that I know of in Alberta. It is practically all fed by the farmers themselves which accounts for the large volume of finished cattle and hogs shipped out of this district.

It seems to be natural for some men to glory in low down practices. Mr. Puffer takes great pleasure in telling the public that his Jew friend, Mr. Manolson, a livestock procurer from Calgary betrayed a secret of mine in a cattle deal we had some two years ago. Now, Mr. Puffer well knows he is telling a down-right falsehood, when he makes this statement.

Manolson came to my place two years ago this spring to look at some cattle I had. He asked me if he could buy them, or were they under contract. I replied that none of the cattle in the Blindman Valley were under contract as our contract calls for hogs. I told him that I was very busy at the time and he would have to deal with Mr. Thompson, the manager of our association, to whom I had given my price. He, himself, went to Bentley and got Mr. Thompson and bought the cattle from him. Now it was not necessary for me to have had him buy the cattle through the association as our association had no cattle contract binding at that time. No one is bound by any cattle contract, to sell their cattle through the association even yet. The resolution was passed at the annual meeting in Rimbey in 1928 that when three hundred members had signed cattle contracts, the contract would come into effect and until that time any member is at liberty to sell where he choses. However, it might be well to know that the three hundred contracts will soon be signed and I would strongly advise Mr. Puffer to stick close to his government job (if he gets it) and leave our affairs alone, for when these contracts come into effect, there may be some more drovers looking for government jobs.

Persons living in glass houses should never throw stones. I think Mr. Puffer lowered himself in the eyes of the public when he alluded to the citizens of Sunset Hill district as Doukobors. This is largely a Scandinavian settlement of good, thrifty, honest people who are a credit to our country. This is his thanks to them for their loyal support they gave him for so many years, but he seems to be true to type. Did you ever see a mongrel yet who did not think everyone else was low bred because he was.

Now, I am a busy man and have no more time to waste on Mr. Puffer, but, to the general public let me say, I have no desire to quarrel with any one, far from it, but under the circumstances, I am forced to uphold the good name and business principles of The Blindman Valley Co-Operative Association and defend it against false propaganda which is always being broadcasted by our opponents.

R. E. CHOWEN,

Bentley, Alta., April 30th, 1929.

EDITOR'S NOTE—This controversy is getting to a point where the public is losing interest as both sides have apparently said all they have to say, and if continued will develop into a "mud-slinging" contest. We therefore have decided to allow Sunset Local to reply to Mr. Puffer's letter, and if Mr. Puffer desires, he can conclude the series of letters.)

A fine steel piano wire runs now 1264 miles from Newfoundland to the Azores. This is not to provide the mermaids with strings for their harps, but to measure exactly the distance between the two points. A cable was laid recently and it was impossible to otherwise determine the precise distance travelled by the cable-laying ship.

Travellers aboard the Canadian Pacific Railway's crack summer flyer, the Trans-Canada Limited, will be surprised this year to find colourful upholstery, green tiled bathrooms, sofas, settees, a glassed-in conservatory and other unusual features. Special sleeping, dining, and lounge solarium cars have been designed and built at the company's Montreal Angus shops for this de luxe transcontinental train, which will be one of the fastest and finest long distance trains in the world.

Construction of the 18-storey Marine Building on the corner of Burrard and Hastings streets, in Vancouver, has begun. When completed this will be the tallest building west of Toronto, where the greatest building, the new Royal York Hotel, of the C. P. R., is 23 storeys in height.

A monument to one of the builders of Canada is planned for Vancouver. Sir William Van Horne, first general manager and second president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, was responsible for the selection of Vancouver as the western terminus for the transcontinental line; a decision that resulted in the growth and prosperity of Canada's second greatest seaport; and the citizens of the city propose to commemorate his foresight.

Every year the Canadian Pacific spends about $2,000,000 in advertising its services and Canada's industrial and tourist attractions throughout the world.

In view of the present prosperity of Canada and of the Canadian Pacific, it is amusing to recall the item published in London Truth over forty-five years ago. "The Canadian Pacific Railway," it runs, "has begun to launch its bonds. This railway, if it be ever finished, will run through a country frost-bound for seven or eight months of the year, and will connect with the eastern part of the Dominion a province which embraces about as forbidding country as any on the face of the earth. British Columbia is a barren, cold mountain country that is not worth keeping. It would never have been inhabited at all unless by trappers of the Hudson Bay Company had 'gold fever' not taken a party of adventurers there. Fifty railroads would not galvanize it into prosperity. The much-touted Manitoba settlement will not hold out many years. The people who have gone there cannot stand the coldness of the winters. Men and cattle are frozen to death in numbers that would astonish the intending settler if he knew, and those who are not killed outright are often maimed for life by frostbite."
